The New Orleans Riots. President Harrison never loses an or portunity to magnify the powers of the Federal Government and minify those of the State governments. We referred yesterday to his recommendation in his annual message that Congress should go into the several States and control their elections for members of the national House of Representatives. In the same message, in treating of the lynching of eleven Italians at New Orleans last March, he recommends that Congress make offences against the treaty-rights of foreigners domiciled in the United States cognizable in the Federal courts. To do this would be to make a privileged class out of the mers domiciled in this coun-and would lead to infinite complications. It would be to disqualify native citizens "of the vicinage" as jurous inhabitants of the several States with summonses to travel hundreds of miles to be in attendance upon the Federal courts. Recollect the scenes that have occurred in our own mountain districts in connection with the tax upon brandy, whiskey, tobacco, &c. Recollect how hundreds of witnesses were sometimes treated as gangs of slaves used to be treated in ante-bellum times, and harassed beyond measure by the persecutions of the Federal offi-cials. The law is better as it stands. The States and State courts have been dwarfed too much already. Let not a Democratic House of Representatives take part in dwarfing them further. Our dual form of government answers our purposes, conforms to our ideas on the subject, and has never failed to attract the attention of foreign governments and foreign people whenever any combination of circumstances-intentional difficulties or what not-bas drawn that feature of our political system into conspicuous notice.

Lake the Supreme Court of the United to such a court nor to such a method of reconciling local institutions with national institutions. Anyhow, the New Orleans case is one the outcome of which need not disturb us. If the Government of Italy can dispense with a representative at Washington, surely the Washington Government can afford to await the time when the former Government shall have become ready to discuss fully all the questions involved in the New Orleans case. The proposition to transfer all such cases to the Federal courts does not search to such a method of insense for Such a pledge and that he refused to give such a pledge and that he refused to give such a pledge, let his views on the silver question be what they discuss fully all the questions involved in the New Orleans case. The proposition to transfer all such cases to the Federal courts does not search to use to the Federal courts does not search to use to the Federal courts does not search to use to the Federal courts does not search to use to the Federal courts and that he colonge Committee so that it would be impossible to legislate on the financial question. Mr. Williams eaps he asked significant on Saturday to Colonel James Boyd, of this city. This is the first failure for quite awhile in Greensboro's. The past year has been unusually hard for the unusually hard for the unusually hard for the unusually hard for the citizens of this county whose ages average at least than refuse to give such a pledge, let his views on the silver question be what they may be unusually hard for the citizens of this county whose ages average at least this refuse to yie while in edges of whom ran close on to a century. The larger part of these out to a century. The larger part of these out to a century. The larger part of these out to a century. The larger part of these out to a century to a man cover as many as eight or ten citizens of this county while in edges of whom ran close on to a century. The larger part of these out to a century to a man cover of the part of the suddent of the propositio States, the dual feature of our system is courts does not seem to us to be by any means desirable. We cannot afford to dispense with railroads and fast travelling in order to get rid of "hot-boxes," and the New Orleans case is nothing but a hot-

Let our fellow-citizens or fellow-inhabitants of Italian nativity rest in the assurance that the State courts will protect them in all their rights.

Revenue from Oysters.

There must be a revision of the oysterlaws of the Commonwealth at this session of the General Assembly. The tax-payers demand that the ogster-fleet shall be made self-supporting; but as to net revenue Tribune need not count upon dissensions from the cyster bottoms and natural rocks in the Democratic ranks. Unless BLAINE which Virginia owns it cannot be expected in large amounts until the planters are the Democrats without a hard fight. The guaranteed longer lesseholds and have had time to realize from the labor and expenditures that they propose to make.

For years to come the expenses of the proposed Shell-Fish Commission, of theengineers. draughtsmen, and inspectors, and oyster-police boats will absorb all of the income. After our policy is settled and our plans are laid, and when the planters begin to resp their profits, Virginia may hope to derive considerable net revenue from her possessions in the oyster country.

We must lay the foundation now for the profits that we expect to realize in the future. The bondholders need not count upon any benefit from this source yet awhile. Governor McKinner in his message, which presents a far more sanguine view than the Tidewater members are disposed to take, only outlines the possibilities of the oyster industry in the future; the far off future, we might add.

Nevertheless, it is the duty of our legislators to give the subject immediate consideration, and especially ought their attention to be drawn to the fact, as stated by the Governor, that planters are occupying more land than they are paying for, ile the receipts that come to the State Treasury from all such sources are inadequate to meet the outlay for the maintenance of the oyster-fleet. The planters should have a ten years' lease-this seems to be agreed upon-and they should be made to pay for all the land that they get allotted to them. The rest of the land might be auctioned off. The rent for the first two years should be moderate.

A rising scale could no doubt be devised There are many things about oysterculture which the up-country members do not pretend to understand, but they do understand the official figures contained in the Governor's message which show that not enough revenue comes from Virginia's interest in her oyster-beds to support the ovster fieet.

The Nicaragua Canal.

The President in his annual message trongly recommends to congressional favor the Nicaragus Canal project. He says it would, instead of being a source of expense to the United States Government, e a means of saving to us much money.

This scheme has gradually grown into favor. Men now advocate it who two or three years ago turned to it a cold shoulder. We have ourselves held inconsistent opinupon the subject. We are too practical to deny the power in the premises of a government which tares our tobacco, whiskey, and brandy; levies bounties; inspects every patent medicine; takes our letters out of our hands and fines the man who endeavors or offers to carry them from one city to another; sends us beyond the limits of our own State and compels us to berd in New York jails with reign criminals; taxes us to raise boun-

States: Government had power—or at least had exercised the power—to do any and all sorts of things. So we will all agree first to construct the Niceragua canal, or cause it to be constructed, and then to determine whether our Government has the constitutional power to do such

The Englishmen and Our Debt. Our esteemed contemporary, the London Fines, intimates that there is less hostility now shan there was a little while ago to the Olcorr agreement, but that influ-ential bondholders are still hopeful that somewhat better terms can be arranged, and the suggestion is made that the prin-cipal should be put at $18,000,000 and the rate of interest at 3 per cent. per annum throughout. The Ozcorr agreement, in lieu of all Virginia securities outstanding except RIDDLEBERGER bonds, provides for a principal of $19,000,000 and interest for ten years at 2 per cent, and for ninety years at 3 per cent. Now comes again the identical proposition that Mr. OLCOTT made while here, and which our commission rejected from a knowledge that the present resources of the State are not sufficient to warrant such a charge upon our Treasury.

It is possible that a calculation can be made, which, in one light at least, will show that it is about as advantageous to the State as the terms agreed upon here; but the difficulty is in providing the revenue which will be demanded for the nsuing ten years. So it is better for us to transmit to posterity this extra million than to attempt to carry it when the slightest default would be almost fatal to ur new bonds.

Besides, if we make any change now the inpression will go forth that we have yielded too much to the demands of our creditors, and consequently the new agreement will not be as well received as that endorsed by Messrs. CLEVELAND, PHELPS, OLCOTT, GARDEN, and others.
Our English friends should ratify the OLCOTT agreement. They can do no better. To reopen the question will be danger-

They must say "Yes" or "No." Public opinion is crystallized to that point.

Railroad Employees We fully concur in the President's reommendation in his annual message that employees upon all railroads engaged in interstate commerce shall be protected against such accidents as are avoidable. In the matter of the lives of the employees of railroads and steamboats and other vessels the President says substantially and truly that we save at the spigot and lose in such cases. It would be to annoy the at the bung-hole. He says that a decrease of the death-rate among such employees might be secured by requiring that every railroad engaged in interstate commerce shall each year equip a given per cent. of its freight-cars with automatic couplers and air-brakes. Why the railroads should

New York and the Presidency

It begins to look as if the Democrats might not venture to nominate any candidate from New York with another from the same State hostile to him. The ugly temper and the bad blood which to him. The ugit temper and the bad blood which the speakership contest has excited will not make it easy to secure united support next year in this State or Connecticut for a candidate re; resent-ing either of the eastern factions.—New York

Then we will take a western man. The Tribune need not count upon dissensions runs the next President will be elected by game is in our own hands. BLAINE's nomination would make a difference in the warmth of the engagement, but not in the final result. It is written in the Book of Fate that the Democratic nominee will

Mr. Koiner's bill providing for one female physician for each of our lunatic asylums should pass.

It is nothing less than a positive duty which we owe to the delicately-nurtured women upon whom has fallen the terrible curse of lunacy that they should have the attendance of one of their own sex skilled in medicine, to whom they may speak more freely than to a man. We understand that the experiment has been successfully tried at Staunton. Other States have passed such laws as that now proposed, and the verdict is unanimous, we believe, that female physicians are capable of valuable service.

Will Mills Be Made Senator?

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)
CHICAGO, ILL., December 10.—A special from Gaiveston, Tex., says the defeat of Roger Q. Mills for the speakership has given widespread support to the efforts of his admirers to elect him to the United States Senate. Governor Horg has stated that an extra session of the Legislature will be called in March or April and the election of a successor to John M. Reagan will be one of the duties of that body. Senator Chilton holds his appointment from the Governor, and sithough a candidate for election by the Legislature, the friends of Mr. Mills are said to be confident of electing the tariff-reform champion. Tucson, A. T., December 10,—There not a telegraph-operator or station-agent along the line of the Southern Pacific from Tuoson to Yuma, and in the other direction but four between this city and El Paso. A strike has been declared. The reason for it is a general refusal to obey the order requiring them to take an eath not to join any telegraphers' organization.

Bun on a Lowell Savings Bank.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

Lowell, Mass., December 10.—A run was commenced on the Lowell Institution for Savings this morning, caused by a runor that the bank is not safe. The bank is paying all demands promptly. The alarm is looked upon as entirely needless, the bank being considered one of the soundest in the State.

A New Variety of the Grip.

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

San Francisco, December 10.—Australian influenza, which is similar to grip, has made its appearance in California. In Oakland, Alameda, and other towns hundreds are afflicted and many deaths are resulting from the disease.

In the cotton returns of December to the Federal Department of Asticulture complaint of unremmerative value is general and the declaration is frequent that the crop does not return the cost of production. A feeling of discouragement hervades the report and a disposition to reduce the area is expressed.

W. E. GRIMSLEY SHOOTS A PREACHER FOR KISSING HIS WIFE.

The Latter Resigns His Pastorate-A Gross Indiscretion-Profits of the Exposition. E. F. Moore Indicted-Failures.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.] Razgion, N. C., December 10 .- Specials of to-day tell of a deplorable occurrence at snow Hill. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Grimsley of that place, living together unhappily, were arranging to separate. Grimsley having deserted her, she was going to her parents. Grimsley, suspecting his wife, secreted himself under a bed. HE KIRSED HER.

Rev. J. T. Abernathy, paster of the Methodist church there, who is widely known in North Carolina, entered the room with Mrs. Grimsley, and it is said tried to console her. As he was about to leave he kissed her. At this moment the husband came from his hiding-place, and aiming his gun at the preacher's head pulled the trigger.

SHOT THE PREACHER. There was a missire, but the second bar-rel went off and as Abernathy threw up his hands he was struck by the shot. His hands were torn to pieces. Some shot struck his forehead and mouth. He is se-verely injured, his face being badly dissignred, but his wounds are not considered fatal. Grims-ley was arrested and held to appear.

A GROSS INDISCRETION. A GROSS INDISCRETION.

Preacher Abernathy telegraphed his presiding elder to come to Snow Hill, and also tendered his resignation as pastor of the Snow Hill circuit. His action in kissing Mrs. Grimsley is concerned as a gross indiscretion, though a special says it is not thought his intentions were evil. The affair has created a great sensation in that section. Mrs. Grimsley is a daughter of Sheriff Murrill, of Onslow county.
